Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, one of the nation’s premier healthcare institutions, is seeking a full-time Maternal Fetal Medicine physician to work in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Maternal Fetal Medicine Division.

The OB/GYN Department has 24 faculty members and over 140 private attendings across all Gynecological and Obstetrical specialties. The OB/GYN Department has an accredited residency program with 6 residents per year and approximately 7000 women per year deliver at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, a large proportion of whom have high risk pregnancies. The MFM Division has six faculty members and an accredited MFM Fellowship Program. The MFM faculty member will collaborate with other faculty and private attendings as a means to maintain academic standards of excellence and carry out the program’s vision.

The candidate must be board-certified or board-eligible and an active candidate in Maternal Fetal Medicine and have the ability to work cooperatively and collegially within a diverse environment. Must possess or be able to obtain a valid, non-restrictive California Medical License. The successful candidate must have a strong commitment to academic medicine. Faculty appointments are through the Cedars-Sinai Professorial Series and the David Geffen School of Medicine at University of California, Los Angeles in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Primary responsibilities include: Provision of obstetric and maternal-fetal medicine clinical care, including outpatient care sites, inpatient coverage of the high risk service, primary coverage of labor and delivery, in-house night call and coverage of offsite high risk clinics. Participate in faculty in-house and MFM attending call coverage. Participation in Grand Rounds, departmental morbidity and mortality, Journal Clubs and faculty meetings. Participation in quality and peer review committee. Actively participate in Medical Center and department PIC’s and other quality improvement activities, which are considered essential responsibilities of all faculty staff. Develop, implement and maintain education programs for residents, fellows and medical students. Attending all daily rounds with residents and fellows when on service. Participate in safety rounds when covering labor and delivery. Other teaching responsibilities as required. Mentorship of residents and fellows as requested. Participate in research activities relevant to the Division of Maternal-Fetal Medicine or own research interests. Actively seek extramural funding for these research activities.

Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, a state-of-the-art, 958 bed tertiary acute care academic medical center is committed to excellence in compassionate patient care, research, education and community programs to improve the lives of our patients. Academic rank and compensation will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

If you are interested in joining a flourishing academic and research environment, please send your curriculum vitae in confidence to: Sarah J. Kilpatrick, MD, PhD (Chair) Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology, c/o Academic.Recruiting@cshs.org. Note, we are particularly interested in having someone join in the summer of 2016.

Cedars-Sinai Medical Center encourages and welcomes diversity in the workplace, AA/EOE